

Draw

Buy now

Two very different powers oppose each other, and each seeks to gain absolute hegemony in the world. One power is poor and spiritual. The other power is rich and pragmatic. Both powers manage to create deadly weapons, and the fear of mutual destruction forces the opponents to end the struggle in a draw. The fates of the main characters in the story are tragic. The tone of the narrative is satirical. Transparent allusions help the reader to recognize reality.

The author based his narrative on various information from literature and the Internet.

This novel is published on several literary and library websites, such as “Barnes and Noble,” “Apple Books,” “Smashwords,” and others. The audiobook may be published on the “Apple Books” website.

You can contact me via email (the best part) or social media.